Dear Bobby:

Thank you for taking the trouble to send me the tapes of Dr. Nyeradi's speech. I shall certainly try to find time to listen to them myself and, if an appropriate opportunity presents itself, bring them to the attention of the President.

Meanwhile I have arranged to have some of my specialists in the field of Psychological matters relating to Hungary and Eastern Europe monitor and perhaps transcribe the tapes with a view to further distribution through the appropriate media, either here or abroad.

I might add that some of my people have heard Dr. Nyeradi speak on the theme of the Communist menace and heartily endorse your impression of his effectiveness and impact. Thank you again for providing us with the tapes of his speech.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Action on your letter from
Mr. Robert Cutler

1. Attached is a reply to Mr. Cutler's letter of 21 May.
Your signature is recommended.

2. Mr. Cutler has sent tapes of a speech on the Communist threat by Dr. Nicholas Nyeradi, the last Minister of Finance of Free Hungary, currently a teacher at Bradley College, Peoria, Illinois. He inquires whether in your opinion this speech is worth further distribution and whether it is of sufficient interest to send to the President.

3. The speech is currently being evaluated by officers of my staff for its exploitation potential. We will advise you further following completion of this study.

Dear Allen:

You will remember my speaking to you, at the time of Donald's funeral, of a speech on the Communist threat which had been made at a Management Conference at the Harvard Business School last month.

The speaker was Dr. Nicholas Nyeradi, the last Minister of Finance of free Hungary. He has become an American citizen and teaches at the School of Diplomacy at Bradley College, Peoria, Illinois. Dr. Nyeradi's speech made a favorable impression here in Boston. Tapes were made of it and have subsequently been played to a number of audiences - Rotary, Veterans' groups, etc., - arousing much interest. I have obtained and enclose to you a set of these tapes, which take about 45 minutes to play.

I hope, as you suggested, you will find time to listen to this speech and see if you think (a) that it is worth further distribution, by some domestic-oriented agency or possibly by USIA, and (b) that the speech is of sufficient interest to ask the President to listen to it. While it seemed to me on two hearings a rather remarkable human document, which has impressed our audiences here in Boston, it may be that to a more sophisticated listener it may sound in places somewhat bombastic, not wholly accurate (I am told the music played by the Soviet toy is not a Russian march, but the Soviets' No. 2 Anthem), and perhaps over-emphasizing the Russian people's unrest and the Kremlin's weaknesses.

Your judgment as to whether the President should be asked to hear the speech - or a cut version - would be of controlling value. These particular tapes were enthusiastically cut for the President by an admirer. If you had an affirmative judgment, I would send down a covering letter for transmittal of the tapes to the Commander-in-Chief, if you wished, or you could leave them yourself with him on some visit to the White House.

Sincerely

Robert Cutler
